The Centennial. NEW YORK, October 28. - A Herald special from Paris says :- The Figaro prints a letter translated from the German newspapers written by M. Du Sommerard, chief of the commissioners of France, at Philadelphia, to a friend in Germany, to which M. Sommerard says: The accounts transmitted to me from my deputy are of the most grievous character. Americans themselves set fire to buildings containing the empty cases of French goods hoping to destroy the French merchandise and articles for exhibition standing in the galleries. A second attempt of the same kind has been made within the last month; worse than all this the police employed by the Centennial board are purposely chosen from the worst and most degraded elements in the United States. The keepers are thieves wittout exception; they steal openly from the exhibitors in the French department and all others; there exists an understanding between t' e-e knaves and the judger; the judges call up the rogues for a hearing when complaints are made at hours unknown to the complainant and as a result no witness of the criminals guitt being present they are acquitted; even worse than this, if such a thing be possible, thieves count on the judges themselves to give them the signal when the discreet moment has arrived to begin the pillage. The correspondent says: The article concludes with an attack upon the virtue and manners of American women. Foreign News.
